The Trouble Listener

By E. RAY BAKER

(Copyright, 1919, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

He stood at the park entrance, a dark-haired, fashionably garbed man of slender build, and allowed his cane to swing repeatedly against the wall that embraced the terrace. Beneath a small, dignified mustache his lips twitched nervously, and his black eyes, set in a pale, almost emaciated face, resumed restlessly over the throng that was enjoying a late afternoon siesta.

From his position at the gate he could see two old men smoking corn-cob pipes contentedly, chatting aimlessly as they rested on a bench, against which a pair of crutches leaned. Near by was a languid young woman with yellow hair disheveled by a red parasol, gazing dreamily into space and now and then calling methodically: "Edward, come here." In a bare-legged youngster romping heedless of her admonitions, on the lawn in the vicinity of "keep off" signs.

A grumpy laborer, clumping his jaw-placed plug and carrying a dented dinner pail, his shoulders hunched forward and his feet dragging after him, stooped into the park and passed near the entrance, where the wind had separated an abandoned newspaper into its several folios and scattered them over the grass.

The laborer glanced furtively about, stepped gingerly on the lawn, and a moment later moved out of sight along the walk, whistling listlessly no tune in particular, the newspaper folded compactly and protruding from a coat pocket.

Two girls passed near the observer with the cane. One was chewing vigorously on gum, punctuating her remarks with frequent snatches of the pipe. The other evidently had been weeping, for there were traces of tears in her eyes and she carried a wilted handkerchief.

"I'd tell 'im where 'uh get off at," snapped the gum chewer. "Don't let 'im put anything like that over on 'us. The 'fear 'eckin' 'uh a whole dollar for 'cause 'uh bustled one mean by 'U' off 'cost 'um. Well, 'guy, I gotta hurry home 'n' get fed."

She hurried off through the park, while the other girl walked on down the street, soaking up more salt water with the tiny lace-fringed square of the linen. All this ceased abruptly at the next corner, where she was joined by a young man and a ripple of laughter floated back.

The man with the cane smiled somewhat grimly and adjusted the stick on his arm.

"The inhabitants of this old world certainly do have their troubles," he sighed, and as he turned he collided with a tall, thin, blood young woman clad in pink.

"Pardon," he murmured, and then as he recognized her:

"Oh, hello, Evelyn. This is a surprise. What are you doing, that you can't see where you're going? Studying astronomy?"

Evelyn smiled sadly and took him by the arm.

"I've just the man I need," she asserted. "I'm in awful trouble—and it's all on account of my no-good husband. Joe, I wish I'd married you. Come in the park and I'll tell you all about it, and maybe you can advise me."

With an air of resignation he allowed himself to be piloted along the park walk. They were just in time to see and hear the suitable discussion of the two old men with corn-cob pipes break up in an angry, spattering argument over the effect of the peace treaty on the map of Europe, or the high cost of living, or the battling percentage of the major league catchers.

As the man and the girl passed the young woman with the yellow hair, the youngster who had been romping on the lawn came running up to her, spitting the air with shrieks.

The young woman manifested great annoyance, stopped gazing at distant nothings, seized the bare-legged child by the arms and dumped him savagely motionlessly on the bench beside her.

"Now, what's the matter?" she demanded angrily. "Can't I have a minute's peace? What are you roaring about?"

"I bit my finger," he wailed, and let loose another torrent of tears.

"Shut up," she commanded, and gave him a slap across the face. He became silent immediately, except for some half-suppressed sniffles, evidently through fear. She looked up as Evelyn and her escort were passing and nodded.

"Oh! How do you do, Mrs. Benjamin," she said. "Did you ever see such a kid? I wish he'd never been born. He's driving me crazy."

"She thinks she's having troubles," said Evelyn to her companion, as they went down the walk. "But her troubles are nothing compared to mine. Wait till I tell you. Come over to this bench."

As they were being seated she remarked:

"Where have you been the last three years? I heard you went West. And you look so pale. You must have been sick."

He nodded but did not vouchsafe a reply, simply moistening his dry lips with his tongue.

"I heard you were engaged to marry out there," she rattled on. "Well, I got married soon after you left; and we lived so happily till—"

Tears came to her eyes and a choking sob halted her conversation. She blew her nose and resumed:

"Ah! It came, to see people like Mrs. Haines back there fretting and worrying about that little boy and thinking she's in misery; while here I am with something real to worry about. Oh, Joe, it's awful, that's what it is! Who would have thought two years ago—Oh, that husband of mine is a brute! Do you know what he's been doing? Well, he—has been going out with another woman, that's what."

She broke down completely and the man placed a sympathetic hand on her shoulder.

"Don't feel so badly," he advised. "It can't be helped. Men sometimes do those things. Anyhow, it isn't as bad as it is—"

She looked up and said almost wearily:

"Oh, it ain't? That's all right for you to say, Joe Carson—you who never had a care in your life, and loaded down with cash, too. I can't tell you how I'm suffering because of Walter's actions."

"You see, Walter never comes home to lunch," she explained his office at noon yesterday to see about some things for dinner, and the office girl told me he went out to eat with some woman. It made me furious, but I didn't say a word to Walter. I called again just a little while ago and the girl told me the same thing. So I came out to take a walk and decide whether to get a divorce or just leave him. That woman must be terrible—one of those vampyres."

Another flood of tears broke forth and Carson looked about uneasily, hesitating to speak lest he may the wrong thing again.

The languid young woman and the bare-legged boy saw such a trial were passing. The youngster was laughing up at his mother as they tripped along, his hand in hers.

Evelyn looked after them and remarked wearily:

"Well, Mrs. Haines has got over her spell and the kid's finger ain't broken his nose now. Ain't that the stuff?" She did not observe a middle-aged man and an elderly lady with gray hair who were sauntering through the park until they were close to the bench.

"Evelyn," exclaimed the man in astonishment as he and his companion halted. "Why, how do you happen to be here?"

Evelyn leaped to her feet in surprise and confusion. However, in an instant she had regained her composure and was all smiles.

"Mrs. Wilcox," said the man, "allow me to introduce my wife, Evelyn. You remember me speaking about the buyer for the Clayburn millinery—our best customer? Well, this is she."

Evelyn beamed on Mrs. Wilcox. "So pleased to meet you," she said warmly. "My husband has often spoken of you. Can't you come up to the house for dinner tonight? Oh, by the way—Mrs. Wilcox and I are dear—meet Mr. Carson, an old friend I happened to meet while getting some fresh air and sunshine."

Carson acknowledged the introduction and presently excused himself. Slowly he walked out of the park, swinging his cane, and entered the hotel across the street. He noticed in passing that the two old men again were snoring in a bench.

"Troubles, troubles," he soliloquized. "Everybody has them, and yet eventually they seem to work out all right. But mine—there's no chance."

He nodded to the clerk, who handed him a telegram. With nervous fingers Carson tore open the envelope.

"Come home, Joe," it read. "Parks continued to embalmment. You are cleared. I'm ready for the wedding."

Carson looked out the window at the hurrying crowds, which he did not see.

"The world's just about all right," he murmured. "Dear girl, she stuck to me through it all."

LAND FOR NATIONAL FOREST

Presidential Proclamation Adds Many Acres in Wyoming to the Public Domain.

The president, on July 10, 1919, signed a proclamation adding 70,500 acres to the Wyoming national forest. This increase in area was authorized by the act of August 16, 1915, which provided for the addition of 5,000 acres known as the Fentonville addition, in the southeastern part of the Wyoming forest, and by the act of February 25, 1919, which provided for the extension of the western boundary of the forest to the Idaho-Wyoming state line by the inclusion of 70,500 acres.

The lands added are rolling, well watered and pretty well covered with a forest growth of aspen, Douglas fir and Engelmann spruce. The Wyoming national forest now has a total acreage of 975,968.94 acres.

Wild Animals That Are Passing.

In former days one of the most numerous of our American game animals was the "prong-horn" antelope. It has been well-nigh exterminated, and though there are some in the Wichita forests and other national game preserves, they are sadly few. It is feared that this beautiful species must inevitably pass away. Wherever there are mountain sheep, on federal reservations, their shykins are proverbial, and yet in the Uncompagme National forest (Colorado) they have acquired such confidence that actually they come into the town of Ouray in the winter time to be fed.

Result of Thought.

Simplicity of character is the natural result of profound thought.—HARRIS.

Placing the Blame.

A well-known novelist was cornered at an afternoon party by an inquisitive lady.

"Are you a bachelor from choice?" she asked severely.

"Yes!" came the prompt answer. "But isn't that—rather ungracious and unkind?" protested the lady.

"You must ask the ladies," he suggested gently. "It was their choice, not mine."

The greatest attack of the Rangers, based on slashing straight football ball, but with forward passes, tricks and punts as features, was not qualified of the Watery defenders were compelled to the last minute of play, when Harvard, separated by inches from a second touchdown was held for down. Harvard's points were scored on a touchdown by Church and a goal kicked by A. Howard. Score of the Orange: 10-0. The goal from the field and Marshall, the expert kicker, made the ball between the goal posts for a goal from the field. All the scoring was in the second period.
Jacob Berger, Hamilton and Marshall scored three points each on the Orange aggregation. The expert receiver, Marshall, scored and kicked the line in a manner that made him the favorite of the Orange supporters, and when he was forced out by a line and Marshall went in, the latter ran like a dream, posted in his style remarkable considering his smallness and weight, and kicked the line so strong that he smashed through time after time.
For Harvard the Howers were the backbone back of the line, worked hard and automatically. There was no overplay of any particular style of play, both teams using the forward pass, punts, line formations, a few trick plays and all other usual tactics.

THE KING.
America's Old "Money Arm" is in Dis-Tinction
Newark, N.J., Jan. 8.—Frank Rosen, of Pittsburgh and Ford Frisco will meet in an eight-round bout at the First National Armory here on January 11. It is announced. The bout will be Rosen's fifth in his "money arm" contests, in which he has knocked out four of his five opponents.

THE TRACK.
Grim Reo Joe Galla Reamer and Owner New York, Jan. 8.—Andrew Miller, one of the owners of "Tide" and famous as a sportsman, died suddenly at 8 p.m. Wednesday at his residence, 500 Park avenue. Mr. Miller was widely known as the owner of a large racing establishment, which included the famous Reamer, winner of many big races, which, by a strange coincidence, broke his leg at his training quarters today, and will have to be destroyed. Mr. Miller had been suffering from bronchial troubles, which had kept him away from the office for several weeks. It was said by one of his associates. The death was announced on Tuesday and announced that he was being better, but after returning home he complained of not feeling well. His death came suddenly from heart failure.
For several years the exploits of the famous Reamer made Mr. Miller's name the best known on the American race tracks. Reamer won every big race in the Eastern track at some time or other during his career. Last fall the great horse showed unmistakable signs of failure, and was sent to Mr. Miller's New Jersey farm for a rest, where he died last night after he passed away.

HOCKEY.
THROUGH KINGTON EVER
A Junior team representing Queen's was defeated by the crack Belleville youngsters Thursday night by the score of 8-2. The game was a splendid exhibition by far the best the Belleville team has yet shown in the winter. The score does not indicate the strength of the new team. Considering everything the homeboys, however, deserved to win. Belleville's successful referee in one, Mr. Prochaska, who is the final point of credit of the game completely and the players did as they pleased.
The Belleville team is a very promising aggregation. The boys state will continue to play and work hard all the time. Their defense is weak, however. Their tactics seemed too fair and positive to meet sportsmanlike. The Queen's team was a pretty strong one. John McElroy, Public and McElroy formed a splendid defense. The biggest goal, however, was a couple of easy ones rolled in by the nat. Gilson, Woodruff, Lockett and McElroy played like hockey all times and showed they are ready to be reckoned with in the future. The Queen's junior team, Capt. Nick Bauri said he was satisfied with the showing his youngsters made. Stewart, Williams and McDermott were the substitute.
A return match here is being arranged by manager Tom McElroy. His hopes to help the Belleville team have shortly—Kington Standard.

HARVARD WINS FOR THE EAST

W. B. Riggs Elected Mayor Good Council Elected

CLOSE CONTEST FOR MAYORALTY—W. C. NIKEL DEFEATED BY MAJORITY OF SEVEN HUNDRED AND FORTY READ THE FIFTY-TWO NEW SCHOOL TRUSTEES
ELECTED. C. F. WALLBRIDGE

Although up to the noon hour yesterday there was considerable spatey displayed in the civic election, the prevailing cold weather being a contributing factor, during the afternoon the friends of the Mayoralty and Aldermancandidates exerted themselves and in consequence a fairly good vote was polled, but not as large as was anticipated. The total vote polled for the Mayoralty candidates was 1770, of which Mike-nel received 877, Mr. Riggs, 893, and ex-ld. Robinson only 172. Riggs received 253. There are several hundred lady voters in the city, but the proportion who polled their votes was exceptionally small. In two wards, namely, Cassam and Blocker, there were contests for Public School Trustees, with the result that in the former ward Mr. Hope McGinnis was elected and in the latter ward Mr. C. F. Wallbridge won over Mr. S. S. Moore, who has been for many years a member of the Board of Education. By many it was anticipated that either Ald. Hanna or Ald. Bone would head the poll in the Aldermanc contest, and this proved to be true. Ald Hanna was at the top with a vote of 1384 and proved to be true. Ald Hanna received 1209. The vote for Mayor and Aldermen was as follows:

Speech Making
When the result was known speech making was the order of the day. The City Hall was filled to overflowing with visitors. The Mayor-elect, W. B. Riggs, occupied the chair.

The Mayor-elect was the first speaker and was accorded a hearty reception. He stated that he felt heavily his position and the responsibility which had been imposed upon him by the electors would be the thank for the support given.

BELLVILLE VS. TRENTON

It was anticipated by many that the intermediate B. C. match at the Bellville rink would be a players and the Trenton team would be one of the games of the season, and it was in this regard that the sporting, which was definitely considered a success, and the Trenton side from the start to the finish of the three periods it was the Trenton team's score was 11 to 0. In this period it was clearly apparent that the hitting team had no show whatever ever of even making a respectable showing against the Trenton side.

At the conclusion of the period intermission the game was fast by the great majority of the spectators and speculation was rife as to what the situation would be. Although the Trenton team made some good runs but they were of no avail. The game was about a few times at the Bellville goal, but only once during the three periods did it reach the net, which was a big score. It made some fine plays and the Trenton team was the hitting player in the right place. At the finish of the onslaught the score was 11 to 0, which we believe is a record in this city. A large crowd of spectators present, the great majority of whom remained until the finish.

Every member of the Bellville team and the Trenton team was very pleased with the result. They played well. While they really did not make any big runs, they were in the game and they were themselves in order to secure a victory. They were especially pleased to give our fans a run and down the ice when they did so, it almost invariably resulted in a goal.

At the first period about 3 goals in each direction, 4 in

5, Whelan, McGormann and Marshall scored. The latter is scoring took the puck behind his own net and carried it to the end of the rink and scored it. He later took the Trenton goal guard.

In the second period the Trenton team played a stronger combination game and as a result the scoring was not so heavy. Some of the goals were made scores for Delintine and the game was awarded by Schlaifer of Trenton, being the only goal and the Trenton team was victorious. In this period, four goals to their credit, four to the goals scored by Arnett. Whelan scored the first goal shortly before the half ring.

In the third and final period six goals were scored and all were registered by the Bellville players.

Whelan proved to be the more fortunate member of the team, as by

The very valuable help of the Y.M.C.A. was secured in this direction, but more work was needed, and there being this mind, and for a full campaign meeting on the proposed campaign next week a meeting of the Y.M.C.A. Campaign Headquarters, Advisory Council, Town Wardens and members of the Association has been called by Campaign Director Brown to meet on Thursday evening of this week at the Campaign Headquarters. This meeting is regarded as the most important one that will be held previous to the campaign itself and it is most earnestly hoped that everyone invited to attend will be present with the best of intentions. Vernon Castle's Last Dance With His Wife

She Tells of Some Tumbling Moments in Story "My Husband."

"I have taken out all that seemed to be made public and looked at lightly in my heart."

There would appear to be the picture of a poignant human document, "My Husband," written by Irene Castle, the dancing partner of young Vernon Castle, who sacrificed a salary of $2,000 a week, and later his life, to serve his country in the Royal Flying Corps.

Vernon Castle, whose musical nature was his friends in all parts of the world, was killed in Texas at Victoria Park, at the age of 25, while attempting to save the life of a friend.

How is the account of the great parting in the story of his life written by his widow, Irene Castle, in the role of the ideal lover. The young couple started life together practically penniless, their only asset being their art. From a modest career in dingy cabarets in Paris the couple danced their way to fame and fortune, which was at its height when war and separation came.

Union Bank Continues Prosperous

Annual report reveals further strengthening of financial position—Important Gains in Assets. Revealing a twelve-month period of significant progress from the viewpoint of financial strength, liquid as the addition of $2,000,000 to the Reserve Fund, whose total is brought up to $4,000,000. The appropriation to the Reserve was made possible by the application of $1,851,710 representing premium from the $2,000,000 new capital stock and the allocation of $12,820 from current profits. This addition to the reserve brings the total up to 70.18 per cent of the capital.

Profits for the year were $22,256 compared with $24,714 last year, an increase of 10.82.

The total deposits for the bank for the year are $15,494,614, compared with $12,243,848 a year ago. Interest-bearing deposits are actually a very satisfactory increase of $1,250,720 or 12.28 per cent. This is particularly interesting inasmuch as interest-bearing deposits are actually the savings of the nation. But for withdrawals for participation in the government loan nationally even larger figures would have been shown which is complete evidence that the banking community based upon the national economy for further thrift and economy is accomplishing much of its purpose.

Current loans of $6,559,146 compared with $14,611,021 last year, an increase of $1,658,127 or 11.88 per cent, emphasize the Bank's cooperation in catering to the commerce of the Dominion.

During the year the Union Bank of Canada makes striking progress in its lending its ramifications abroad as well as further extending its banking network throughout Canada—500 parts in 1,000.

SCHOOL HOUSE BURNED
The Morgan school, House, situated in Mary Township, North Hastings, was destroyed by fire on Monday night. The origin of the fire seems a mystery. The fact that there had been no fire in the following fire with the school house burnt down at six o'clock Monday morning has caused a little suspicion to arise among the girls parents of the section. A theory of over two hundred volumes, the teacher's books and all the children's books were destroyed. There was $1000 insurance on the school. The teacher is being held in the Presbyterian church, until temporary quarters are filled up where the children can attend school. A new building will likely be erected in this spring.

First Toronto Addresswoman Delivers Inspiring Address Before Belleville Citizens Club.

Whether a woman elected as a member of a City Council is to be known as an Aldermaness or as an Alderman is a question apparently not settled, for Mrs. A. Hamilton, member of Toronto City Council for 1915, was addressed the Belleville Women's Club last evening while she was attending the annual convention at the Hotel Windsor, Toronto. Mrs. Hamilton is a pioneer speaker, her style is conversational without any pretence at oratory, but she is conversant and shows a wide knowledge of municipal law and municipal conditions.

The motive power of the line is this year possibly in better shape than in other recent years and the number of the passenger trains are running on time. Although there is a marked improvement in the soft coal situation as the winter advances, wood is still being used in firing the stationary boiler at the head shops of the Grand Trunk. Adequate supplies of coal, however, are coming forward for use by the locomotives of the system. The Grand Trunk Railway's traffic department has recently secured a new line of business from the system of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railway which will be in operation by the end of the year. The traffic is coming westward from the Central Vermont railway and originating in the New York, New Haven & Hartford line at New London, Westminster, Montpelier and Northampton.

LET THERE BE HARMONY IN THINGS ESSENTIAL—LIBERTY IN THINGS NOT ESSENTIAL—CHARITY IN ALL.

BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO, Monday, January 19, 1920.

To Spend $60,000,000 on Ont. Roads in 5 Years

MON. F. C. BIGGS SECURED AN AMOUNT OF FEDERAL GOVT. ROADS GRANT FOR 1920-21 OF $60,000,000.

Sixty million dollars will be spent on the construction of good roads in the Province of Ontario during the next five years, according to Hon. F. C. Biggs, Minister of Public Works and Highways.

The Minister had a splendid report on the capital and the roads in better highways met with hearty approval from the Dominion Government.

Mr. Biggs succeeded in securing $60,000,000 of the Dominion Government money, which will be used for the Province of Ontario. This money will be used for the construction of the roads in the Province of Ontario.

The amount to be expended in main roads, within the next five years of $60,000,000, said Mr. Biggs, is an amount which will come from the $100 million from the Dominion Government and three millions from the municipalities.

In addition to that amount, $5 million will be expended in the main roads, which will be used in various ways by the Dominion Government.

Fine Metals Have Given Maxwell its Rank

THE substance of which a car is made denotes its quality. The use of fine and strong metals in the Maxwell has won it many, many friends.

It was necessary to make the Maxwell chassis of the very best materials. For its great mission was to transport—in an extremely economical way—at great a passenger load over the same road and at the same speed as the larger and heavier cars.

Thus it was obvious that the Maxwell had to be light. And to make it light the quality metals were used.

Metalurgists, the men who have made the study of metals a science, say that it compares favorably found for pound with the highest priced cars the world has ever known.

But you need not be a metallurgist to discover this "inner goodness" in a Maxwell. Three months will tell; six months will tell you more.

Otherwise the demand for Maxwell cars, five short years would never have grown from five hundred a year to one hundred thousand a year.

100,000 Maxwells on the highways of the world to-day answer most any question you can ask about this great car.

Not far from the heart of a two-hundred-mile-long valley between the Canadian Rockies and the Selkirk Mountains, Lake Windermere has attracted to its very beautiful shores a considerable settlement of ranchers, who by means of an excellent irrigation system, grow alfalfa, potatoes, smaller fruits and certain varieties of apple and cherry trees. There are several successful dairy farms, and the Valley is particularly well adapted for horse breeding. The wonderful scenery of the creeks and canyons leading up to the Great Fish Lake is easily accessible from this Valley, and the number of tourists and Alpine climbers who make this lake summer headquarters is steadily increasing. Already there is a small tourist hotel, and there is talk of a Trestle City for the forthcoming summer, on the line of the Trestle City at Conover. The lake is a popular resort in the United States. The water of the Lake which is ten miles long is of a uniform temperature of about 44 degrees, and there are excellent beaches beside the hotel golf course. The Valley is served by the Banff-Windermere Railway, connecting the main line of the C.P.R. at Golden, B.C., with the Crow's Nest branch at Conover and Cranbrook. As the distance is best known on account of the lake, the names of several of the "Windermere" stations will be changed to "Columbia Lake" and "Banff-Windermere" to "Lake Windermere". Under an agreement between the Federal Government and the B.C. Government, the Banff-Windermere Road, now under construction, will form part of the National Parkway System, and will be completed by the Federal Government. This road will provide access to some of the most spectacular scenery in the Canadian Rockies, and some of the most beautiful lake scenery in Western Canada.

The Heintzman & Co. Piano "Royalty's Choice"

THAT Heintzman & Co. Pianos have been chosen time and again by Royalty when visiting or sojourning in Canada, unreservedly mark them as Canada's Premier Pianos.

The Heintzman & Co. Piano, styled "Classic," displayed in our windows this week and priced at $775.00, was a good buy. It is the last style "Classic" to go at this price.

In the latest of these memorable occasions this firm was instrumental in supplying a Heintzman & Co. piano for the use of H.R.H. the Prince of Wales at the Ritz-Carlton, Montreal, in October 1919.

BRITISH NEWS IN PICTURES—LATE SIR JOHN ALCOCK

(1) Late of late Sir John Alcock famous aviator, arrives at Waterloo Station from France.

The Famous Lake Windermere in B.C.

(1) There are trees on the banks of the Lake.
(2) On the Bantli-Windermere road.

Nestling in the heart of a two-hundred-mile-long valley between the Canadian Rockies and the Selkirk Mountains, Lake Windermere has attracted to its very beautiful shores a considerable settlement of ranchers, who by means of an excellent irrigation system, grow alfalfa, potatoes, smaller fruits and various varieties of apple and cherry trees. There are several successful dairy farms, and the Valley is particularly well adapted for horse breeding. The wonderful scenery of the crevices and canyons leading up to the Great Selkirk is visible in nearly all directions from this Valley, and the number of tourists and Alpine climbers who make this their summer headquarters is steadily increasing.

Already there is a small tourist hotel, and there is talk of a Tourist Hotel for the forthcoming summer, on the shores of the West Cliffe at Caservail.

Under an agreement between the Federal Government and the B. C. Government, the Bantli-Windermere Road, now under construction, will form part of the National Parks system, and will be controlled by the Parks Department. This road will provide access to the river and some of the most spectacular scenery in the Canadian Rockies, and should bring many more tourists to one of the most delightful lake districts in Western Canada.

The kind way the Railway men received the canvassers, has been source of much encouragement to the workers.

This preparation is the result of years of experimenting and study. Thousands have derived the greatest benefit through its use. Write for free sample. Templetons, 163 King St. W., Toronto.

The Famous Lake Windermere in B.C.

Stretching in the heart of a two-hundred-mile-long valley between the Canadian Rockies and the Selkirk Mountains, Lake Windermere has attracted to its very beautiful shores a considerable settlement of ranchers, who by means of an excellent irrigation system, grow alfalfa, potatoes, smaller fruits and certain varieties of apple and cherry trees. There are several successful dairy farms, and the Valley is particularly well adapted for horse breeding. The wonderful scenery of the rocks and valleys leading up to the Great Selkirk, rendered so easily accessible from this Valley, and the number of tourists and Alpine climbers who make this their summer headquarters is steadily increasing. Already there is a small tourist hotel, and there is talk of a Tourist House of the Tourist Club at Covehead Beach and other popular resorts in the United States. The water of the Lake which is two miles long is of a uniform temperature of about 64 degrees, and there are excellent beaches for the local golf courses. The Valley is served by the Kootenay Central Railway, connecting the main line of the C. P. R. at Golden, B.C., with the Crow's Nest branch at Trail and Cranbrook. As the population is so large, the name of the lake is to be changed. "Lake Windermere" will be changed to "Columbia Lake," and the name of the town will be changed to "Lake City." Under an agreement between the Federal Government and the B. C. Government, the Bank-Windermere Road, now under construction, will be part of the National Parks Road, and will be controlled by the Federal Government. This road will make accessible to motor cars some of the most spectacular scenery in the Canadian Rockies, and should bring many more tourists to one of the most delightful lake resorts in Western Canada.
